To the Editor of the Massillon Independent:

—SIR—I trust you will pardon me for the liberty I take in asking you to publish in your paper a sermon preached by Rev Thomas K. Beecher, of Elmira, New-York, minister in the Congregational church, with whom I am somewhat acquainted.

This sermon is so full of historical and ecclesiastical research and Christian feeling, I think it worthy the reading of every enquirer after truth, and his Christian charity worthy of imitation.

Most respectfully,
Mrs S. RANDALL.

MR. BEECHER'S LECTURE ON THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Let another man praise thee, not thine own mouth; a stranger and not thine own lips.—Prov. 27: 2.

If any man, however deserving, begin to show off and brag, speaking often of his past record and public services, he makes himself offensive.

But when a general gives credit to his brother generals, and ascribes victory to their wisdom and valor of the army then all are pleased Such words are twice useful—they profit him that speaks, and them of whom they are spoken.

In something the same way, we are offended when we hear or read the words which churchmen speak in praise each of his own church or denomination. They seem conceited, arrogant, offensive. They seem to vain glory at home and ill will abroad.

But it has seemed to me that christian pastors and prelates might be at least as courteous one to another as army officers are! And if we would note and praise the beauty of our sister churches more, and silence our own boastfulness, there might come to pass among christian people a smiling charity and peaceful rejoicing.

I invite you, therefore, this evening, to view the beauty, the uses and the truth that belong to those christians among us who are popularly called

EPISCOPALIANS.

In this city there are four kinds of church that have bishops and I therefore may call themselves Episcopal.

Roman Episcopal.
Protestant Episcopal.
Methodist Episcopal.
American Methodist Episcopal Zion.

But only one of these is generally known as the Episcopal church, viz: the P. E church, represented in this city by two parishes and a mission.

This Episcopal church in America is in fact a continuation of the church of England. As gardeners lay down a branch of a vine and stake it fast and cover it till it takes root, and then cut it off and leave it to grow by its own roots; so the Episcopal church in this land was a branch of the church of England, which was laid down and rooted; and by our revolutionary war, was cut off to grow ever since with roots of its own.

The church in America differs from the church of England, in those matters chiefly that must needs have been changed because these states ceased to be colonies and became a nation with differing political constitution. Instead of King, the churchman in America says President; for parliament, congress; he needs a prayer quite new for his legislature, and governor, for in England there were none such. But he drops all mention of the gunpowder plot, the martyrdom of Charles 1st, the accession and happy reign of our sovereign lady Queen Victoria, and all other strictly English events.

The American churchman omits, too, the Athanasian creed which is long and true, but has a dry and funny tale to it that makes irreverent people smile.

Of all protestant churches the Episcopal best deserves the name, Reformed. She preserves so many of the usages and excellencies of the Roman church, and so few of her errors that it is quite easy to perceive that she is a reformed church. All other protestant churches seem revolutionary rather than reformed.

The reformation in England was more than two hundred years long. There were no volcanic convulsions; no one brilliant Fourth of July day in which the great reform was proclaimed. Nor was the reformation purely and disinterestedly religious.

When the Pope (Urban V 1365) demanded large sums of money, in payment of tribute long in arrear, parliament gave willing ear to the reformer Wickliffe, who denied the authority of Rome, and so excused the nation from paying its debt. Afterwards (1380) this same great man finished a translation of the Latin Bible into English! He wrote tracts for the people. He revived preaching to the people. His disciples went diligently up and down the land, teaching and preaching the truth and the authority of holy scripture.

Thus one hundred and fifty years before Luther was heard as a revolutionary reformer, (1517) the leaven of Bible reading and private thinking was at work among the English people.

But the church in England was still Roman Catholic, notwithstanding the work that was going on among the people. The followers of Wickliff, known in history as Lollards, have furnished thousands of names to the bishops' list of heretics, elsewhere known as the noble army of martyrs.

During the reign of Henry VIII. (1534) the church in England was declared independent of Rome. This was perhaps the crisis of the English reformation. King Henry was a man not unlike famous King David in his love of women, his tempestuous piety and intermittent conscientiousness. He was a many sided, large patterned man; a riddle to all small eyed writers of history.

This curious King, having married his brother's widow by special permission of the church, by and by applied to that same church to declare the marriage unlawful; and when the bishop of Rome would not grant this required divorce, Henry, the headstrong and hearty, declared himself, married again, laughed at his own excommunication, caused himself to be proclaimed supreme head of the church of England, and to prove, that in all these steps he was quite right, he cut off any man's head who should dispute or deny the same——e. g. Sir Thomas Moore. (1534).

Thus then we come to a church independent of Rome, but not yet reformed. The Bible was in many churches Yet men, not a few, were slain for reading it and talking it. Among these, William Tyndale deserves our mention; for he translated the new Testament into idiomatic English and published much wise doctrine, in consequence of which he was duly strangled and burned.

The King multiplied bibles but cut off bible readers.

After Henry and his stormy ways came pious and gentle Edward VI to the throne and at once the flower of reform began to blossom, and the church to show the features which she wears to-day.

The English bible was read by lessons at morning and evening service as now. The Liturgy was translated and said in English. The creed of the church was packed in forty-two articles, afterward reduced to the famous thirty nine. Accordantly both the bread and the wine were given to the common people at the sacrament. And other reforms and purifyings were set afoot.

Edward's reign was a short one, (1547 53); long enough to introduce these changes, yet short enough to keep the Protestants from getting too much headway.

After him came the pious but gloomy and unhappy Queen Mary, who strove to bring the realm of England back to Rome. She caused persuasive fires to be kindled for the good of dissenting souls. She did what she could; but she could not undo the reformation. Parliament and the people were too much for her. But her opposition kept the reformers from running into extravagance and cruelty.

After Mary came Elizabeth, who caused Roman Catholics at one extreme and Puritans at the other to feel her scorn and suffer fines, imprisonment and death.

Then came James I, of England, by whose order our present Bible was prepared and printed and authorized.

And thus from reign to reign the church of England came down, acquiring little by little her present shape, and laying off the corruption and unreason of the Roman church as then existing and administered in that rude age.

The prayer book may be called substantially complete as we now have it, in the seventeenth century (1661.) Thus this reformed church of England filled up nearly three hundred years in her work of purifying and simplifying. And of all protestant churches therefore she best deserves the name reformed.

In this country, the first parish of this church was probably that in Jamestown, Va., 1606 8. Down to the revolutionary war, the church in this land was under the care of the bishops of London.

Shortly after the revolution an application was made to parliament to allow an American bishop to be consecrated. But the Puritans and Presbyterians opposed the proposition, and so Mr. Seabury, the candidate, had to put up with a second-rate consecration at the hands of certain Scotch bishops. But at last, in 1787 parliament allowed the Archbishop of Canterbury to consecrate three regular, first class bishops for New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia respectively. Since then the holy unction has not been allowed to fail. With pious care, it has been propagated. And the Episcopal church in these United States stands to day as truly and regularly in the line of Apostolic succession, as the Church of England herself.

After this mere outline of her history it remains that I note some of her excellent uses and beauties.

1. The Episcopal church offers for our use the most venerable liturgy in in the English tongue. The devotional treasures of the Roman Catholic church are embalmed and buried in Latin. But in English, there are confessions, gospels, psalms, collects, confessions, thanksgivings, prayers—in one word, no religious form book that can stand a moment in comparison with the prayer book of the Episcopal church in the twofold quality of richness and age.

The proper name, because truly descriptive, for this church, would be Church of the Prayer book. As is the way with all other churches, so here, the church champions and leaders have many wise things to say about the church and her prerogative. But the press multitude that frequent her courts are drawn thither mostly by love of the prayers and praises, the litanies and lessons of the prayer book.

And, brethren of every name, I certify you that you rarely hear in any church a prayer spoken in English, that is not indebted to the prayer book for some of its choicest periods.

And further; I doubt whether life has in store for any of you an uplift so high, or a downfall so deep, but that you can find companionship for your soul and fitting words for your lips among the treasures of this book of common prayer.

In all time of our tribulation; in all time of our prosperity; in the hour of death and in the day of Judgment. Good Lord, deliver us.

As a consequence of the prayer book and its use I note:—

2 The Episcopal church preserves a very high grade of dignity, decency, propriety and permanence in all her public offices.

In nearly every newspaper you may read some funny story based upon the ignorance or eccentricity or blasphemous familiarity of some extemporising prayer-maker. All of you here present have been at some time shocked or bored by public devotional performances. Nothing of this sort ever occurs in the Episcopal church. All things are done and spoken decently and in order.

And so too, of permanence and its accumulating worth of holy association, no transient observer can adequately value this treasure of a birth-right churchman.

To be using to-day the self same words that have through the centories declared the faith or made known the prayer of that mighty multitude who being now delivered from the burden of the flesh, are in joy and felicity:

To be baptised in early infancy, and never to know a time when we were not recognized and welcome among the millions who have entered by the same door:

To be confirmed in due time, in a faith that has sustained a noble army of confessors, approving its worth through persecutions and prosperities, a strength to the tried and a chastening to the worldly minded:

To be married, by an authority before which kings and peasants bow alike, asking benediction upon the covenant that without respect of persons binds by the same words of duty the highest and the lowest:

To bring our new born children as we were brought, to begin where we began, and to grow up to fill our places:

To die in the faith, and almost hear the gospel words soon to be spoken over one's own grave as over the thousand times ten thousand of them who have slept in Jesus:

In short;—to be a devout and consistent churchman, brings a man through aisles fragrant with holy association, and companied by a long procession of the good chanting as they march a unison of piety and hope until they come to the holy place where shining saints sing the new song of the redeemed. And they sing with them.

Another excellence I note:

3. The Episcopal church furnishes (to all who need such comfort) the assurance of an organic and unbroken unity and succession from Jesus Christ, through the apostles, by a line of authentic bishops down to bishop Huntington of this diocese.

King Henry VIII. and Queen Elizabeth with their proclamations and parliaments are so conspicuous and fill so much space in the merely political history of the English church, that many able writers deny that the river of apostolic succession so dammed by them, could ever get around the dam and flow along again pure and uncontaminated. I cannot decide this question absolutely.

What I say is this: The apostolic succession in the Episcopal church can be traced back so many hundred years into the dim past, that it is no shame to any man to say, "I believe it to extend back to Peter, Paul and John;" and he who verily believes that the ordaining or confirming hand of the bishop of this diocese, is electric with the spiritual life that proceeds from Jesus of Galilee, will find it a hand of virtue and worth. He who doubts will find it a hand of form and ceremony.

And so without stopping to decide the question whether our bishop is really a successor of Paul or John, I say that the Episcopal church affords so much evidence that she has in her Episcopate the true succession, that it is no shame to any common man to believe her. And if a man believes in in his bishop he will get from him all the benefit that can come from bishops.

Brethren, many needy souls are not able to lay hold upon God one by one. They cannot appropriate a gospel promise to themselves. Like Job of old they say: "If I had called and he had answered me yet would I not believe that he had hearkened unto my voice!—VIII, 16.

Such extreme and exemplary humility asks for and needs a church ark, and the humble place and privilege of a private passenger. The ark of God that shall outride the deluge! The church of Christ, in which is found salvation.

I say then that the claims of the Episcopal church to be such an ark of God or church of Christ, endowed with sacraments, absolutions and profitable authority for all practical purposes.

I leave historians and ecclesiasts to their endless words, and assert that the poor in spirit who seek comfort and salvation through the offices of the Episcopal church, are as well off in her as they can be in any church. And since many are profoundly prejudiced against church of Rome, I am happy to point all such to a sure welcome to the Episcopal church, with sacraments, successions and authority as good as the best.

4. The Episcopal church is excellent in her provisions for christian education and pious drill.

Churches that avowedly receive very young infants as members must necessarily provide education for these accepted children. Accordingly the Episcopal church is characteristically a church for the training of children, just as some sister churches are characteristically revival churches for the conversion of grown folk.

In the prayer book and church almanac you find the christian year divided into periods separated by high days—memorials and memorials of christian story. This christian calendar agrees very near with that of the Roman church. And he is an unusually well informed christian who can read over this catalogue of days, and in few words tell the story that each day celebrates! But a birthright churchman who has been quietly trained in a church home for fifteen years, will need very little teaching more.

In connection with this calendar is a system of lessons in following which, the reader is led through the entire Bible each year, and through its more profitable parts, monthly or oftener!

He, who for years has been a churchman, and yet remains ill grounded in scripture, shows himself an unworthy son of a faithful mother.

By the lessons, gospels, epistles, psalms and collects appointed for special fast or feast days, the events commemorated by that day are wrought into the memory of every worshipper. And by the seasons longer or shorter of special religious effort and observance, this church satisfies the same want which other churches satisfy by weeks of prayer, protracted meetings and long revivals.

A good school is a dull place to any visitor who rushes in to find sensation and excitement. He will call it dry, stupid, poky. In like manner, many religious sensation makers and sensation seekers will promptly vote the church calendar and all its smooth machinery of pious drill, a very dull substitute for a regular, rousing revival. But in the long run the church that steadily trains and teaches will outlive the church that only arouses and startles. If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed.

5. This church makes a distinction between her creed as a church, which all her officers must subscribe;—and that much shorter declaration of faith which she expects from her children.

This church never vexes converts with profound questions in theology. Of those who would receive the Lord's supper she requires that they repent them truly of their former sins; steadfastly proposing to lead a new life. That they have a lively faith in God's mercy through Christ, and a thankful remembrance of his death, and that they be in charity with all men.

To any and all such, asking no further questions, this catholic and most generous church approaches and by the hand of her priest gives the consecrated bread with benediction. The body of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was given for thee, preserve thy body and soul unto everlasting life. Take and eat this in remembrance that Christ died for thee; feed on him in thy heart by faith, with thanksgiving. And with like words the consecrated wine: Drink this in remembrance that Christ's blood was shed for thee—and be thankful.

Citizens and Christians all!—Because this Episcopal church is a reformed church and not revolutionary; —because her book of prayer is rich and venerable above all in the English tongue; because her ritual promotes decency, dignity, prosperity and permanence; because her historic union through the apostles with Christ comforts and satisfies so many souls; because she adopts her infant children and provides for them education and drill; and because with large hospitality she proffers her sacrament to all true believers of every name;—therefore from her own psalter let us take the words wherewith to bless her "They shall prosper that love thee. Peace be within thy walls, and plentiousness within thy palaces. For thy brethren and companions' sakes I will wish thee prosperity. Yea, because of the house of the Lord our God I will seek to do thee good."

INDEPENDENT.

EARTH CLOSETS.

We are pleased to learn of an addition to the already extensive manufactories of our city. The Massillon Excelsior Works are now manufacturing the dry earth commodes and fixtures for the Earth Closet Co., of which Mr. John Hoskin is general agent for Ohio, Western Pennsylvania, &c. Our readers have often heard of this great improvement in the economy of the household. To those who have not we may say that the earth closet is an invention now being rapidly introduced into the best houses all over the country, entirely superseding the water closet, as being better and cheaper in every respect. It has been discovered that fine dry earth is the most perfect disinfector and deodorizer that is known, and of this important fact every one should be aware—a slight covering of it over any decaying animal matter or human excreta, will render it at once perfectly inoffensive and without odor. It can be used in the sick chamber or nursery without the use of any other apparatus than a paper bag of air-dried, sifted garden soil. It should specially be borne in mind that in cholera and infectious fevers, such as typhus, &c., the use of powdered earth is a preventive of contagion.

The patented apparatus of the Earth Closet Co., is merely a more convenient means of using the earth. It possesses the advantage over the water closet that it has no complicated apparatus to get out of order, it is independent of water supply, has no risk from freezing, and can be shifted from one room to another at will.

Our readers will be interested in reading the following account of its introduction and sole use in an entire suburb of the city of Chicago.

FOUNDING A TOWN.

The enterprising people of Chicago show their good sense by providing, at this comparatively early day, for their suburban homes. Viewed in the light of its natural gifts, Chicago is not a blessed place to live in, if we except Michigan avenue and a few of its most favored but limited localities. There is an air of lowness and dead levelness about the city and its immediate environs, which are the opposite of attractive to an eastern man; and even for a long distance about there is nothing of the rugged and picturesque character that is to be found near eastern cities. In the arrangement of the suburban towns and villages which are springing up near the city, however, the shortcomings of nature promise to be more than made good by the hand of man.

Conspicuous among these projected towns is Riverside, which lies nine miles west of the city, with frequent railroad communication, and what is to be a magnificent nine mile drive, probably one of the finest in the country. The Riverside project is under the management of Messrs. Olmsted, Vaux & Co., of this city, who are determined that it shall not only be one of the pleasantest, but absolutely the healthiest of American towns. Such public buildings as are now being constructed are of beautiful design, and perfectly adapted to the future needs of the place. These gentlemen, supported by the Riverside Company, are, it seems to us, commencing at the right end of the work.

Those who are familiar with Morrisiania, East New York, and Bergen Hill, do not need to be told how suburbs grow with us—cheap, white, a wooden house here, a grocery store there, and an Irishman with his shanty and his pig pen between them. Little by little the poorer classes establish themselves in the new settlement, and then some man with capital buys a block or two of the town, builds a barrons new villa, and draws other people of easy circumstances about him. Some years later paved sidewalks and public buildings make their appearance, and at last many of the earlier settlers are bought out, gutters and some sewers are made, and the town begins to be inhabitable.

Riverside is to escape this stage—this horrid stage of adolescence.

The first step was to lay out its roads and walks after the plan that will be most advantageous years hence, when it shall be a large town. The ornamental planting is arranged for now, so that each new comer may not have to begin by planting small trees and living out of doors for ten years. The gutters are curbed and the streets are sewered. Purchasers will be required to conform from the outset to certain sanitary restrictions which are established for the benefit of the community. The most important of these is a provision with regard to sewage. No cesspools will be allowed to be constructed, and no privy vaults. Neither will water closets be allowed in houses. Each house is entitled to its connection to the sewer, but only by a two inch pipe, which the proprietor will, of course, be obliged, with a view to his own interest, to keep from becoming obstructed, which it speedily would do if solid or semi-solid matter of any sort were allowed to find entrance to it. This apparently rigid restriction has been made possible only by the introduction of the earth closet, and it has taxed no little of the ingenuity of the engineers to devise a plan by which all the convenience and comfort of the water closet system may be secured by the use of dry earth. Until the subject was taken in hand by Mr. Olmsted it was attended with certain drawbacks, such as the necessity for the householder to give his personal attention to the supplying of dry earth and the removing of deposits, and the possible difficulties with servants on the subject of attending to closets on the upper floors of the house. By Mr. Olmsted's plan the closets for the different stories are placed directly over each other, and they communicate with a vertical shaft, a few feet square, outside the house. This is the channel by which the dry earth is hoisted up, and down which the deposits are discharged by tilting the trays under the seats on the different stories. An operation which may be performed in a moment by any one. The vertical shaft has a shallow vault at the bottom for receiving deposits, and is provided with a hoisting apparatus with a self dumping arrangment, by which the earth reservoirs on the different floors may be supplied by a person operating from below. Of the details of the arrangement for preventing the closets on the different floors from interfering with each other, it is only necessary to say that they seem simple and complete. There is no door opening from any part of the house into the vertical shaft; the only access to it is by a door opening into a back yard. This door is to be kept locked and the key will be in the pocket of the public dustman, whose duty it is at stated intervals to make his rounds with his load of sacks filled with dry earth, and his implements for removing the contents of the vault. He first fills the different reservoirs, putting in much or little as may be required, but filling them full; then shovels out the moist earth below, locks the door and goes on to the next house. He asks no questions and has no communication whatever with housekeeper or servant. His work is perfectly simple, and is performed without need for the concurrence of any one inside the house. As the deposit which he removes is no more offensive than so much coal ashes, he need not work stealthily by night, like a scavenger, and his cart in its rounds will give no offence to the public. Connected with the earth apparatus on the different floors of the house will be pipes for conveying away liquid waste only; hair, rags, and other possible sorts of obstruction being withheld by a straining funnel, which can be from time to time emptied into the earth shute. The kitchen wastes, in like manner, after passing far enough for their grease to have become cooled and solidified, will be thoroughly strained before passing into the sewers. The entrance to the street sewers themselves will be provided with silt basins which will detain all solid matters from the roads, and allow nothing to pass into the pipe which will not freely flow through them.

We have been particular in describing the sanitary arrangements at Riverside because we believe them to be full of suggestiveness for those who have to do with the laying out of towns in other parts of the country, as well as those who are charged with the public health and public decency of communities already established; and we trust that the design of the Riverside association to make its town the healthiest in the country may be transcended by a laudable rivalry on the part of other places which might possess themselves of the same advantages.—N. Y. Evening Post, Semi-Weekly, Dec. 21. 1869.

DR. C. W. BORACK—Sir: I have been suffering for months past from a torpid condition of the liver, and also from functional derangement of the heart. I was induced by Mr. Dodge, your agent here, to try your Scandinavian Blood Pills and Purifier, and they helped me without any doubt, and I can, therefore, from my own experience, conscientiously recommend them to others.

Yours Truly,

Constitutional Amendment—YES.

POSTAGE.—Among the commendable acts which transpired in congress of late was a vote the other day in the house in favor of abolishing the franking privilege. Members were nearly all on one side. It is a good move, for the reform is a much needed one, and we hope it may become the law of the land. Late accounts, however, of the bill for this repeal of the frank, say that some very objectionable provisions are attached to it, and among them are those requiring postage on newspapers in the county where printed, and that all newspaper postage be prepaid. There must be a spirit of revenge in certain congressmen which they wish to exhaust on newspaper men because they merely ask the introduction of a much needed reform. If they would show the necessary or intimate connection between abolishing the franking privilege and requiring the payment of postage on newspapers, we might see the force of their logic—as it is the relation between the two is as wide as the poles, and no congressional wisdom can show the necessary connection between them.

RETRIBUTION.—Within the last two score years the state of Mississippi was represented in the senate of the United States, also in the national cabinet, in the person of Jeff Davis. Within that time, too, slavery held full dominion over the politics of the entire country, and ruled with an iron will the destinies of many millions of people. Among the despotic powers of this tyranny was the arresting and imprisonment of some of the people of Oberlin because of their active expression of sympathy in behalf of certain fugitive slaves at Wellington, Lorain county. Oberlin has always educated applicants, whether white or black, or men or women. Among the students who obtained a liberal education was a colored Mississippian by the name of Revel. That man is now one of the U. S. senators at Washington, while Jeff Davis is gone almost into obscurity. Instead of the principles which ruled Mississippi in other days now controling Oberlin, it is very evident that the principles which were taught and practiced at Oberlin are now the ruling power in Mississippi. Of a truth it may be said, "that the mills of the gods grind slow, but grind exceeding fine." It is a case of just retribution.

LEGISLATURE.—Latest advices at Columbus say that a resolution has been introduced in the house in favor of introducing the Bible into public schools, with the proviso that the people of each district settle the question for themselves.

Another resolution was offered in favor of so amending the state constitution as to give women the privilege of voting. Tabled, and ordered to be printed. The question won't be so easily got rid of after a while.

Those democratic laws having for their object the denial of the vote to those suspected of being related to colored folks, and preventing students and soldiers from enjoying the ballot, have been repealed. Also, that wise provision requiring every man who run a steam engine to pay one or two hundred dollars for a sort of sham inspection has passed out of existence.

SIMULTANEOUS MEETINGS.—Some thirty years ago, when the temperance cause was in comparative infancy, we had meetings of the advocates of the cause throughout the country on the 26th of February. All efforts in that way was carried on by open, public meetings, and hundreds and sometimes thousands of people met at hundreds of places to listen to the earnest eloquence of those among the best speakers in the country. These annual gatherings, with many intervening meetings, were observed for many years, and did much toward educating the people up to the importance of the subject they had under consideration. Recently the Congressional Temperance society met at Washington City, and a committee appointed by that body suggests that simultaneous meetings be held all over the country on the 22d of February, Washington's birth day. It is truly a good move in the right direction—for, to the shame of not a few, truth demands the record that this same birth day is observed in a way not flattering to the great and good man who led our countrymen to liberty: too often is it perverted to reveling and drunkenness. On this point Bro. J. A. Spencer, of Cleveland, principal officer of the order of Good Templars of Ohio, makes the following timely suggestions:

But to the point I wish at this time particularly to write about, is to call attention to the recommendation of this society, which reads as follows:

They recommend to the ministers and to the churches, and to all temperance organizations, and the philanthropists and patriots throughout the land, to hold simultaneous meetings in their several towns, township and city wards, on the 22d of Feb. next, the birthday of Washington, and unite in the organization of union temperance societies based upon the simple pledge of total abstinence from all that intoxicates, and to adopt practical measures to have such pledge presented to every man, woman and child over ten years of age. There are millions of members of Christian churches, and public schools, and millions of others whom it is believed might be persuaded to pledge their faith, truth, and honor wholly to abstain from the use of intoxicating drinks, and this society believes if a concerted, vigorous and persistent effort were made to that end, one third of the nation would within a few months be thus pledged and enrolled.

Now here is an opportunity for action, as far as it goes, on the part of large numbers of individual who do not see their way clear to unite with the so-called secret societies. Also, for those who believe it is best to rely on moral suasion alone to aid the temperance cause. Such persons should promptly take hold of this suggestion of the Congressional Temperance Society, and make one grand demonstration all over the land next Washington's birthday.

It is true, our convictions are for additional suasions to that of moral suasion. We believe in legal suasion and voting suasion, and have no hopes of greatly checking intemperance, and drying up the fountains of this stream of death, without these latter agencies. We can save a few, but the rum-traffic can manufacture drunkards faster than we can save them. But we want those who do not see things in the light we do to come up zealously and earnestly to the work they think it right to perform, without either procrastination or indifference. Do not stand back and exclaim, 'We can't abide these temperance societies!' or, 'We are afraid these temperance men are getting too radical and deserting moral suasion!' and at the same time doing nothing, saying nothing, and expending nothing to advance even the faintest kind of labor. If others are supposed to be on the wrong track, go ahead on yours and prove it to be a better and a wiser course.

The Congressional Temperance Society invites the church members, ministers, philanthropists, and patriots to hold meetings on the 22d of February, and at that time to circulate the pledge for signatures. Will you not, then, moral suasionists, lead out in this direction? As to Good Templars, we do not wish to trammel you, but you will find us following your lead, and heartily co-operating in any efforts for the good of the cause.

Housekeepers in search of furniture will find an improved and superior lot of extension tables at Huntsman & Hackett's, Main st., west of canal.

For elegant and all sorts of lounges and every variety of furniture, best quality, go to Huntsman & Hackett's.

By his notice elsewhere it will be seen that Mr. James Bayliss keeps for sale a variety of lumber, always ready for use.

Clay & Ogden constantly keep on hand and for sale a variety of finely finished, and substantially built carriages, which can be seen by calling at their establishment, Main street, west of canal.

We are under renewed obligations to our attentive representative, S. C. Bowman, Esq. for a lot of valuable public documents.

Keep it before the people that W. E. London's is the cheapest place in town to buy your groceries because he sells for cash.

During the last seven days the weather has passed through its usual varied mutations—from wet to dry—from moderate to not very severe. Snow fell at times cautiously and in homeopathic quantities.

NOTICE.—All persons wanting to buy or sell real estate of any kind, should get the Pittsburgh Real Estate Register, published monthly by Croft & Phillips, Real Estate Agents, No. 139, Fourth Avenue, Pittsburgh Pa. Sent free to any address. 41-4w

Just received, a lot of choice N. O. sugar, remarkably cheap, at W. E. London's cash store.

A little girl one day last week in walking near the edge of a precipice at the west end of the stone bridge across the Tuscarawas, accidentally fell over and rolled down near the water, was somewhat bruised in the descent, but not seriously injured. In passing such places, whether of a moral or physical character it is always best to keep as far away from them as possible.

Remember, that you can save from 10 to 20 per cent. by buying your groceries at W. E. London's cheap cash store.

An Oxford student on being asked to write an essay on Christ turning water into wine—promptly remarked that the modest water saw its lord and blushed—but he had never seen or heard of Townsend's Glycerine Jelly or or a better simile would at once presented itself—for it makes a permanent blush of gushing beauty to those who have long since considered themselves beyond the pale of producing a sensation. It was remarked but the other day—that if Glycerine Jelly had been known twenty years ago this beautiful land would be perfectly illuminated with the beauty of the fair sex. For sale by G. W. Demuth & Co., opera house drug store.

The concert on Saturday night, in the opera house, by the Canton G. A. R. band, assisted by several ladies and gentlemen of that place, was quite a pleasant affair, and the spectators were generally well pleased with the performances. They deserved a better house, and if they should ever come here again we hope to see them more liberally patronized.

Along the level here it looks as if the water in the canal is to be drawn off, as it is falling daily.

MASSILLON & CLEVELAND RAILROAD.

We learn from the Massillon Independent that the railroad connecting that city with the A & G W R R, at Clinton and giving them a connection with Cleveland, was completed on last Thursday the 20th inst., and it will be immediately put into operatiou. Now it behooves the citizens of the Tuscarawas valley—and we include Massillon—to complete the connection from Massillon to the Pan Handle by way of Canal Dover and New Philadelphia. If we don't mistake a guess, the people of Massillon and other points north of us will have an opportunity before many months roll around to show whether they desire a connection south. We also venture the further assertion that no thirty-five miles of railroad in the country would pay a better per cent. upon the capital invested than would a road from Dennison to Massilon via New Philadelphia, passing as it would do through the vast mineral regions of this valley, which only need such an outlet to show that it is not excelled, if equalled by any other in the state.—Tuscarawas Chronicle.

UNIVERSAL NEGRO SUFFRAGE.

The fifteenth amendment requires now only the vote of Georgia or Texas in order to be proclaimed an article of the federal constitution, "the supreme law of the land." Within a week or two we expect this proclamation will be made. What then? The amendment declaree that neither the United States or any state shall make any abridgement of the right of suffrage on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude; and it further provides that congress shall have the power to enforce this thing by appropriate legislation. The states of Delaware, Maryland and Kentucky, therefore, in their next elections will have to admit the right of the negro to vote, which they have heretofore denied him; and if they fail to do it Congress will interpose. And so with any one of the states.

The democrats have resisted this amendment to the last ditch, on the ground that it gives to congress the power to regulate the machinery of our elections in all the states. We hold that it simply gives congress the power to enforce the equal rights of the colored race in any case where a state may refuse to grant or fail to enforce them. This, of course, may involve in certain cases an overhauling by congress of the state election machinery; but we do not suppose that the amendment will be construed, for instance, as turning over to congress the management of the polls of this city from the sachems of Tammany Hall, unless they exclude Pompey from the ballot box.

It follows that the policy adopted by the old line democrats of Virginia and elsewhere down south—the policy of recognizing the negro and cultivating him as a political ally—is the only course now left for the democrats in all the other states, and the sooner the Tammany Regency act upon this idea the better it will be for them and their candidate for the next presidency; for negro suffrage is fixed, and there will be no getting round it.—Herald.

Revels, the colored senator from Mississippi, is take his seat on the democratic side of the senate chamber. We are sorry for Revels. But those who assigned him that position are but anticipating the progress of events. The time may not be far off when colored senators will be sitting on that side of the chamber among their partizans, for the democrats will prove the truth of the poet's lines, slightly altered:

"Black is a color of so frightful mein,
As, to be hated, needs but to be seen;
Yet seen too oft, familiar with its face,
They first endure, then pity, then embrace."
—Cleveland Herald.

L. R. Shryock, president of the St. Louis board of trade, and others have just returned to Louisville from Muhlourg and Butler counties, Kentucky, where three thousand acres of coal land was purchased. The coal is pronounced almost inexhaustible, of superior quality, free from sulphur and phosphorus. A company will be immediately organized to work the mines.

All of fashionable New York is quarreling over the distribution of two hundred and eighty tickets to a select ball to be given in honor of Prince Arthur. The ball is being gotten up by thirty-six gentlemen, each of whom is allowed eight tickets for distribution.

Mr. Johnson, the new Virginia senator, has been assigned a desk immediately behind his colleague on the democratic side of the chamber. All the benches are now occupied, and when the senators from yet unrepresented states present themselves, new seats will have to be arranged outside the outer row of benches.

The distillers in Montgomery county are holding on to their whiskey, with the hope of something turning up to their advantage. At one small distillery, that of Gunckel & Brother, Germantown, there is $40,000 worth of whisky in warehouse.

Having confidence in it, and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice, and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known.

Dr. Lloyd, of Ohio, surgeon in the army during the war, from exposure contracted consumption. He says: I have no hesitation in saying that it was by the use of your Lung Balsam that I am now alive and enjoying health.

Dr. Fletcher, of Missouri, says: I recommend your Balsam in preference to any other medicine for coughs, and gives satisfaction.

Allen's Lung Balsam is the remedy to cure all Lung and Throat difficulties; it should be thoroughly tested before using any other balsam. It will cure when all others fail Directions accompany each bottle. J. N. HARRIS & Co., sole proprietor, Cincinnati, Ohio.

We, the Druggists of Massillon, call the attention of our customers to the letters published below of the wonderful efficacy of Dr Roback's Stomach Bitters, Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Purifier, and Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Pills. We have been selling these medicines long enough to know that they are all they are recommended to be, and that the certificates of cures published are true.
JOS. WATSON. EDWARD KACHLER

The following, from one of the most worthy citizens of Athens County, Ohio.

We take pleasure in publishing such certificates, as we know it to be genuine.

EDITOR.

ATHENS, ATHENS Co., O., August 10, 1859.

DR. C. W. ROBACK,

Dear Sir:—Permit me to say in relation to your Scandinavian Blood Pills and Blood Purifier, that I have used several boxes and bottles, and have found their effects on my system to be all that is claimed for them in your advertisements. I have also seen the effects of your Pills upon a child four or five years old, in expelling worms from the bowels.—One dose given the child, confined to the bed, and apparently very sick, caused the worms to come away from it in great numbers, and they were found crawling and scattered all about. The child thus relieved recovered immediately, and is now well and hearty.

Yours, &c.
JOSEPH HERROLD.

RAILROAD SOUTH.—By an article in to-day's paper it will be seen that Brother McIlvaine, of the Tuscarawas Advocate is agitating the extension of our new northern railroad connection southward. It is well to keep this idea before the public, for such a project will be carried not many years hence. The interest of the people of Tuscarawas county as well as that of our own, in addition to that of the people north of us, requires such a connection. The vast mineral wealth which such a road will naturally traverse will make its existence an inevitable necessity, and it will bring to the purchaser and seller the advantages of steam communication, so that they will be in the same neighborhood, we may say, making their interests one. So let the idea be kept before the people.

If you want a good clock cheaper than the cheapest, go to Durgin's, as he is selling them twenty per cent. less than can be bought elsewhere.

Perfection drips and family groceries generally at Estep's.

Cassimeres, vestings, beaver cloths, and chinchilla, very cheap at Humberger & Son's.

The magnificent stock of musical instruments now on exhibition at Fassett's are all direct from the manufacturers and have not been on hand for the last half century.

EDITORIAL CONVENTION.—A meeting of Ohio editors is called by the committee authorized to attend to that business, to be held at Springfield, Clark county, on the 24th and 25th of this month. The object of the call is business, not amusement or pleasure. The circular sent us makes several good suggestions among which is the propriety and necessity of trying to bring about a reduction in the price of paper. It is alleged that the high tariff on imported paper is the excuse behind which our paper dealers stand when they exact the prices they do for that necessary article. If the tariff on paper has such an effect we go for FREE TRADE, without abatement, at least in paper. Another useful idea hinted at is the absurd practice of receiving pay for foreign advertisements in "chips and whetstones," when greenbacks or their equivalent should be the remuneration. At this writing we can't tell who may be there—very doubtful about the writer hereof—but we hope that wisdom, prudence, and a just spirit of interest in behalf of the welfare and dignity of the craft may characterize the proceedings of those who come together on that occasion.

MR. FASSETT'S advertisement will appear next week, overhauled and changed. That is the proper way for business men to adopt—if they advertise by the year, change from two to four times during a twelve month. Mr. F., we understand, is selling off considerable numbers of instruments, and is meeting with liberal patronage.

Table linens, napkins, towelings, and doylies at Estep's.

The question has do doubt been often asked, How long Durgin has worked at his business? We can with all truth and candor say, thirteen years. Should n't that be reason enough, therefore, in warranting your leaving your watch there, if you wish it put in tip top good order.

Ricks' have just received a new supply of breakfast shawls, the latest styles.

Table linens and crashes, new arrivals at Humberger's.

Changes in our time table came too late for this week—will be attended to in our next.

PROF. L. A. CLEWELL, late of Philadelphia, has made the piano his study, and who has the advantages of a musical education in his native city, proposes to come here and give lessons, provided sufficient encouragement is held out. He will devote two days of each week to a term of teaching. He is prepared to give satisfactory evidence of his ability in this profession to any one interested in knowing these facts. Our music loving citizens will do well to give him a trial.

Prof. Clewell made some excellent music on the piano Saturday evening.

One good thing, and that is, when you leave your watch at Durgin's, for repairs, you may always rely upon its not being spoiled by a One month's apprentice, as he employs no such help, his work all being done by himself.

Blankets, nubias, square and long shawls, and arabs at Estep's

It is an acknowledged fact by everyone that Durgin does watch work cheaper and better than can be done elsewhere, and above all, he warrants it to give perfect satisfaction.

Lost, on last Saturday; a gold G. A. R. pin and black necktie. The finder will be reasonably rewarded on leaving the same at this office.

NEW GOODS.—I. B. Dangler has gone east to replenish his stock, and in a few days will open some bargains, those ten cent and shilling calicoes and muslins will do right well to buy. Come in and see 'em.

If you want your watch, clock, and jewelry repaired in good style take it to Durgin's, opposite opera block, Massillon, Ohio.

Knitting yarns, Germantown wools and zephyrs at Estep's.

If you want anything in worsted work on canvass Humberger & Son are closing them out cheap.

Ladies, if you wish to purchase a single or double shawl, call at Ricks' for they are selling their stock at reduced rates.

EDWIN FORREST, as may be seen by notice elsewhere, is to be here three evening, this week, commencing this evening, at which time he will perform the part of Cardinal Richelieu, (Bulwer's Historical Play,) and Othello and King Lear, both by Shakespeare. He will be assisted by a company of distinguished ability from Cincinnati, about twenty in number. The reputation of this noted actor, as one of the best and most successful in his profession is not limited to our own country, but his fame is known and acknowledged in other countries as well as our own. It is seldom that he visits the smaller cities, as his time is fully occupied in places of the largest class, where they have the best artists and liberal patronage. For this reason it will be well for our people to turn out and fill the Opera House, as they may not have a similar opportunity in a life time. It will certainly afford rare satisfaction to see those creations of Shakspeare presented by a master in his profession.

The necessity and utility of numbering the houses of Massillon has become so manifest, that our city authorities have been talking the matter over in a preliminary way. We hope they will soon take action and bring the project to a practical conclusion. As to who shall perform the work, it is nothing but right and proper that our mechanics should have the job, for they are skilful and competent, and will do the work as cheap and well as anybody else. Our council has done many good things, now let them add this measure to their already numerous good works, and they will receive the thanks of every citizen.

It is said that our gas works have quite as much as they can do to supply this community, especially on these nights when the Opera House is fully lighted up. If this is the case it wont be many years until it is necessary to enlarge the works, especially if street lamps are introduced.

The Literary Association met at the mayor's office on last Friday evening, though the attendance was not very full. Members present evinced considerable interest in discussing the political temperance question, and when they come to vote on it sustained the affirmative. The next question for consideration is as follows: Ought the reading of the Bible to be Practiced in common schools? As Mr. Forrest is to be here next week it was agreed to hold the next meeting on Friday evening February 11th, when it is hoped all the members and as many others as see proper will be on hand. As there is such a diversity of opinion on this question, and as it is one fraught with interests involving considerations which all hold as highly important, candid discussions cannot fail to interest all who participate and all who hear. It is a little curious that the young men, natives of this place, don't take more interest in this method of improvement. A large portion of those who take an active part in these meetings are not natives of the place. It should be otherwise.

Shaded Germantown wools at Humberger & Son's.

Just received at Ricks' a new assortment of Circassian switches.

BROTHER THOMAS, of the Fostoria News gives notice in his last number that the paper is for sale. Judging from the liberal advertising patronage in the News it would seem to be a good location for an enterprising business man. Bro. T. complains bitterly, as do not a few others, about the delinquency of subscribers. Require peyment in advance, then there will be no reason for grumbling.

COUNTY ATLAS.—F. W. BEERS & Co., 95 Maiden Lane, New York, are taking the preliminary steps to publish an atlas of Stark county. An agent is now here for the purpose of canvassing, and securing reliable information in regard to this city and its business relations, which will be embodied in a map, specially of this corporation, and we have no doubt but our citizens will aid him in this work, and also liberally patronize it. Since the publication of a similar map some sixteen years ago many changes have transpired, vast improvements, made, and others are about to be effected—these considerations make such a map necessary, to be up with the times. To render it more useful it will be proper to number the houses so that locations can intelligently and definitely be indicated. As the map and atlas are designed for use in this county they are published only for subscribers; and as the cost of getting up the work will be great, the patronage must be liberal to warrant its publication. The following brief synopsis of the contents of the proposed work will give a good idea of what it is to be—

If a sufficient number of subscriptions can be procured to warrant the enterprise, the undersigned propose to publish an atlas of this county, containing—

A map of the state of Ohio, showing in their proper relations, the counties, chief cities, railroads, etc.

An outline plan of this county, showing the relations of the townships and important villages to each other, with the roads and railroads properly located thereon.

Outline plans of the large cities, showing the streets and public buildings.

Separate plans, on large scale, of each town and village in the county, showing the location of dwellings, stores, and public buildings, designated by name; public roads, with their measured lengths in rods, from careful surveys; together with the rivers, streams, railroads, canals, etc.

A table of distances, giving in miles and tenths, the nearest distance from any one to all the important villages in the county.

The whole to make a volume 13x15½ substantially bound, with cloth sides and leather backs, and embellished with handsome gilt title on front cover, altogether making a neat, substantial, and useful book for reference.

Those calicoes at Humberger & Son's for 12 cts cannot be beaten.

DEATH OF A VALUABLE CITIZEN.—Elsewhere is announced the death, last evening, of Isaac T. Heckman, of the firm of Heckman & Gerber, which occurred at his residence on Cherry street. The deceased was a son of Joseph Heckman a prominent citizen of Massillon, where he was born. When quite a young man, he entered the employ of Dangler & Tennis, hardware dealers, of Cleveland, where he was first associated with his surviving partner, Mr. Christian Gerber, with whom, in 1861, he formed a partnership and opened a hardware store at Lima. Here the deceased at once commanded an enviable position as a business man and a citizen, being elected mayor in 1864. Ambitious for more business than that location permitted, they came to Toledo, where, in January, 1865, they opened a wholesale house in the same trade. Here, as in Lima, their business was eminently successful, and here, as there, the deceased established a high character in all respects.

Owing to a serious lameness, which for several years past not only greatly interfered with his getting about, but also affected his general health, he was enabled to form comparatively few acquaintances here; but he became known to enough to give him many warm friends, and to commend him strongly to the confidence and esteem of our citizens. He was a man of fixed principles of life, clear convictions and firm action, and was never known to swerve from the line of strictest rectitude in private or business relations. His integrity was never questioned, while his fidelity to right was proverbial. A wife and two small children mourn the loss of such a husband and father. The remains are to be removed to Massillon for interment, the preliminary services to take place at the residence, 63 Cherry street, at 11 o'clock this morning.—Toledo Com. Jan. 24.

Don't forget to call at Kelley Bros. and pay your account.

DISCIPLES CHURCH.—The members of this organization of Massillon are newly arranging their place of worship by making radical alterations inside, and otherwise improving it. Comparatively few members live here, but we understand more are moving to the city, and the design is to have preaching there a portion of the time. Their church is a model of plainness, and for this reason many like it better than those more showy tabernacles.

The liberal inference is made in one of the Cincinnati papers, so it is reported, that because we can see some half dozen church steeples from the windows of this office, therefore we are a set of heathens. Where is the logic in this sort of inference?

A new assortment of shilling prints, the latest styles and patterns, just received at Ricks'.

The people of Cleveland are about to erect water works similar to those at Chicago, that is, making a tunnel something near two miles out under the lake, where pure, clear water can be had. They now have fine new water works, such as few cities are favored with, but from some cause the water is of a very impure quality, and not very suitable for use. It is expected the works will cost about a million dollars.

Fassett sells the best musical instruments in this market.

The protracted meetings at the Methodist and Presbyterian churches are continued with considerable success—quite a number of additions being made to each congregation. They have been kept up almost continually, every evening since the commencement of this year, and how much longer they will hold out is not known to us.

For a short time on Saturday night at a late hour could be heard a liberal amount of yelling on Main street. It seemed suddenly to cease, and somebody was about who put a stop to it.

Fresh fish were selling on Main street last Wednesday and several days following. Some of them were fine, large specimens.

MARRIED.—At the Presbyterian church, on Thursday evening the 27th ult., by Rev. L. Williams, Mr. JOHN CURRUTHERS and Miss BARBARA PITTS.

On the same evening, by Rev. W. Lynch, Mr. A. NORTON STRAW, of Akron, and Miss AMANDA HARSH, of this place.

DIED—On the 28th ult., S. P. KESSLER of this place, aged about 51 years.

MRS. ALLEN'S

Hair Restorer & Zylobalsamum

Are so uniformly grateful and beneficial, that they are, with justice called the natural strengthieners of the human hair. They are two entirely separate and distinct preparations, not to be used together at one time.

Mrs. Allen's Hair Restorer

Never fails to satisfy the most refined and cultivated. A guarantee goes with every bottle, that it will quickly restore gray or white hair to its original youthful beauty, gloss and color; after its use a few times the hair will grow thicker and stronger. It will stop its falling and induce a healthy and luxuriant growth. It is an exquisite hair dressing, agreeable, harmless and healthy. Entirely different from most other preparations for the hair, its composition and ingredients are nourishing, giving life and vigor to the Roots.

Mrs. Allen's Zylobalsamum

This exquisite preparation is free from any sediment, and is a toilet treasure. The urgent want of a simple Hair Dressing, for the youth of both sexes, first induced the manufacture of the Zylobalsamum, and the sale of it is perfectly immense, not only in this country, but in Europe.

EXTRACTS FROM A FEW LETTERS.

"Your Zylobalsamum is used by every member, young and old, of our family, and we consider it invaluable. Should any gray hairs appear, we shall try your Hair Restorer, which we hear very highly spoken of."

"Father and mother use your Hair Restorer, and are delighted with it. It soon restored their gray locks to their youthful color, but daughters and son still find in the Zylobalsamum all their hair requires."

From the Principal of one of our large Female Seminaries: "Your Zylobalsamum has been used for many years by myself and family, and is the favorite among our young ladies."

Sarsaparillian

RESOLVENT.

NEW PRINCIPLES OF CURE.

Of all Wasting, Scrofulous, and Eruptive Diseases of the Eyes, Nose, Mouth, Throat, Ears, Head, LUNGS, Kidneys, Bladder.

THE SKIN MADE PURE, CLEAR, SMOOTH, AND BEAUTIFUL.

DR. RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT Establishes a new principle of Cure of all Chronic diseases; and proves to the medical world that Consumption and other Scrofulous diseases are curable. This fact has been demonstrated in over where one Lung in over seventy cases was destroyed and dried up, and in others

ONE HUNDRED CASES OF CONFIRMED CONSUMPTION

500 CASES OF SUSPECTED CONSUMPTION.

DR. RADWAY, three years since, published to the world his analysis of the Blood in the several stages of CONSUMPTION, showing in every stage, that where tubercles become deposited in the Lungs and other organs, as in the Kidneys, Liver, Spleen, Bronchial Glands, Intestines establishing Consumption of those organs, the BLOOD is in a morbid pale, watery, and in deficient of LIFE-SUSTAINING constituents as fibrin Albumen, Phosphorus, and the rich red coloring discs of the Blood Corpuscles. In the absence of these constituents in the Blood, the Blood is exhausted of strength and nourishment, and wherever there is inflammation it deposits tubercles and decomposition, it has not the power to build in solution its natural constituents, and Ulcers Sores, Tumors, Cancers, and Virulent Humors are formed, the presence of which causes inflammation, gathering, and consequent suppuration.

This, reader, is the true cause of the formation of Tubercles and Consumption. Dr RADWAY was the first to advance this theory of the cause of Consumption and its kindred diseases, and prepared the RADWAY'S RESOLVENT, to supply the Blood with such constituents it was deficient of, in these conditions of system, and to give it the nourishment and strength to hold its natural constituents in solution. Dr. RADWAY'S theory was published in England, France, Germany, and America, and was seized upon by the scientific men of both hemispheres. From his test medical books have been since published by medical writers claiming to have discovered the cause of Consumption, but have failed to produce the remedy to cure. Dr. RADWAY was the first to advance this theory, and the first and only discoverer of a medicine that will cure. In RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT the public now have a remedial agent that will cure Consumption and all diseases of the LUNGS, BRONCHIAL, KIDNEYS, BLADDER, WOMB, THROAT, GLANDS, AND URINARY ORGANS.

In all Wasting Discharges, such as Involuntary Loss of Sperm, Emissions, Weakness of the Generative Glands, Leucchorrœa, and all Uterine difficulties, Gravel, Lime Stone, Brick dust, Ulceration, and Calculous Concretions, the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT is a positive cure. In Dropsy, Diabetes, Unclean Venereal, Syphilis in its many forms, it cures when all other medicines fail.

EVERY DAY

an increase of flesh, weight, and strength is experienced. It is Fat-tissue, Chyle or Heat making. It is to the blood what oxygen is to the atmospheric air, it supplies the life principle. It swiftly removes from the surface all Spots, Blemishes, Pustules, Tetters, Rash, Fresh Worms, Sores, &c., imparting a

Errors of Youth.

A gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity send free to all who need it, the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience can do so by addressing in perfect confidence, John B. Ogden, 42 Cedar street, N. Y. 307 1y

Irritable Invalids.

Indigestion not only affects the physical health, but the dispositions and tempers of its victims. The dyspeptic becomes, too, in a measure demoralized by his sufferings. He is subject to fits of irritation, sullenness, or despair, as the case may be. A preternatural sensitiveness which he cannot control, leads him to misconstrue the words and acts of those around him, and his intercourse even with those nearest and dearest to him is not unfrequently marked by exhibitions of testiness foreign to his real nature. These are the mental phenomena of the disease, for which the invalid cannot be justly held responsible, but they occasion much household discomfort. It is to the interest of the home circle, it is essential to family harmony as well as to the rescue of the principal sufferer from a state not far removed from incipient insanity, that these symptoms of mental disturbance be promptly removed. This can only be done by removing their physical cause, a derangement of the functions of the stomach and its allied viscera, the liver and the bowels. Upon these three important organs Hostetter's Bitters act simultaneously, producing a thorough and salutary change in their condition. The vegetable ingredients of which the preparation is composed are of a renovating, regulating and alterative character and the stimulant which lends activity to their remedial virtues is the purest and best that can be extracted from the most wholesome of all, viz: sound rye. No dyspeptic can take this genial restorative for a single week without experiencing a notable improvement in his health. Not only will his bodily sufferings abate from day to day, but his mind will recover rapidly from its restlessness and irritability, and this happy change will manifest itself in his demeanor to all around him.

What Every Horseman Wants.

A GOOD CHEAP AND RELIABLE LINIMENT. Such an article is Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment. Pint bottles at one dollar. For lameness, cuts, Galls, Chafe, sprains, &c., warranted better than any other. It is used by all the great horsemen on Long Island courses. It will not cure ring bone nor spavin, as there is no liniment in existence that will. What it is stated to cure it positively does.

No owner of horses will be without it after trying one bottle. One dose revives and often saves the life of an over-heated or driven horse. For colic and belly-ache it has never failed. Just as sure as the sun rises, just so sure is this valuable Liniment to be the horse Embrocation of the day.

Use it one and all. Sold by the druggists and storekeepers throughout the United States. Depot 10 Park, Place N. Y.

Thirty Deadly Poisons

according to the Journal of Chemistry, are sold in this market to change the color of the hair. The Medical Gazette says that they are worthless as dyes, and that their sale is a crime. The proprietors dare not submit them to chemical analysis.

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

on the contrary, has been analyzed by Prof. Chilton, the great analytical chemist, and pronounced absolutely harmless, as well as efficient. See his written certificate at Cristadoro's, Astor House, New York.

Christadoro's Hair Preservative, as a dressing, acts like a charm on the hair after dyeing. Try it.

C. F. GALTON'S
DYSPEPSIA REMEDY.

In offering this remedy to the public, we feel confident that every statement we make in regard to its curative properties will be fully verified by all who avail themselves of it. The prescription has been used in this city nearly ten years, and has never failed to effect a permanent cure whenever used in accordance with the directions, and the patient has had sufficient strength of mind to abstain from rich and indigestible food for a short time. In cases of Heartburn, Waterbrash, Constipation, and Nervous Headache, arising from imperfect digestion, and all ailments which are produced from an abuse of that important organ, the stomach, it will afford permanent relief.

As an evidence that our statements can be fully relied upon, we refer the reader to the certificates below:

"For a number of years I was greatly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and although my stomach craved food, it would immediately reject it, should I eat anything, no matter how small the quantity. I was frequently compelled to leave the table without being able to take any nourishment. In a short time I became very much reduced in flesh, and was so weak that I was unable and unfit to attend to my business. My mind was in no better condition than my body, as I was continually oppressed with lassitude and depression of spirits. I tried all the patent medicines and prescriptions that I heard of, and some of these afforded me temporary relief, but in a short time I relapsed into my former condition.

"While suffering in this manner I heard of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and concluded to try it. I had taken it but a short time when I began to feel relief, and continuing to take it, I soon could partake of my meals without any disagreeable feeling either while at the table or afterwards, and gained flesh rapidly. It is now nearly two years since, and I have continued free from anything like a return of the Dyspepsia—I can therefore recommend it to any one suffering in like manner.

"Respectfully yours, ANDREW J. NICHOLSON.
"PITTSBURGH, March 20, 1869."

"This is to certify, that during the early part of the summer of 1868 my wife was much troubled with Dyspepsia. She had a severe pain in her side, her appetite was variable, and she became quite sallow. After having used two bottles of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, her appetite became good, she was relieved from the severe pain in her side, and her complexion became good again, all of which I attribute to the use of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and I have recommended it to all my friends and acquaintances. All that I can do to make its wonderful properties known, you can rest assured will be done. JAMES A. SMITH.
"PITTSBURGH, PA."

If you are suffering do not hesitate to buy a bottle of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and avail yourself of its curative properties.

Alcock's Porous Plasters

Step by step this comodity has attained its unprecedented fame. They are universally approved. They support, strengthen and aid the growth of muscles. They appear to have a peculiar effect upon the nerves, allaying irritability, while supplying warmth. They seem to accumulate, electricity and aid the circulation of the blood through the part where applied, by which healthy action are induced

Even in paralysis, where articulation was suspended, the use of the porous plasters to the spine restored the articulation, and materially reduced the paralysis. In fact, the patient could help herself while before the porous plaster was applied she was as helpless as a baby. We refer to Miss Sally Elliot, Springfield, Mass.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®
NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The February number of Demorest's Monthly presents an extraordinary array of literary novelties. Among the gems in the February number of this model monthly is Schiller's Song of the Bell; also the fourth plate of Cole's Voyage of Life, very finely engraved, with much useful and seasonable information on fashions. But we must refer the reader to the book itself, as no mere mention will do justice to this model magazine. Yearly $3, with a premium. Address Demorest's Monthly, 839 Broadway, New York.

The Nursery this time pleases its host's of little folks with a large number of pleasant pictures, the purport of which many of them can read even without the aid of the alphabet. Its pleasant little stories are, however, easily understood, and the youthful reader can master its contents. John L. Shorey, Boston.

ARTHUR'S budget of monthlies for this inst. are pleasant and welcome reading to his numerous patrons. Ever fostering the good and true their publications are wholesome reading for both young and old. First in the series is

Arthur's Home Magazine which is, if anything, better and handsomer than the admirable January issue, which took its readers by surprise, with its charming new dress and improved air. Published by T. S. Arthur & Sons, Philadelphia, at $2 a year. Following is

The Children's Hour.—We notice that the publishers of this beautiful magazine have offered special terms to day and Sunday schools: and we learn that it has already been introduced into many day schools as a reading book. The freshness, interest, purity, thoughtful earnestness, and high moral tone of the Hour render it particularly valuable for this purpose. The yearly subscription is $1.35, or eleven copies for $10. T. S. Arthur & Sons. Philadelphia.

Once a Month, also by T. S Arthur & Sons, gives the reader 80 pages of original and selected readings, full of information, and good moral tendencies. Like its predecessors, it is beautifully printed, and forms an attractive feature in every well selected series of monthlies.

The Atlantic Monthly we regard as the high chief of the magazines in this country on account of its able boldness in striking for the right, no matter about popularity. The contents for February are Joseph and his Friend (continued); Rhyme Shayth Shame; Quaff, a learned essay on evil influences; Winter Woods (poem), The Value of Accident; Father Meriel's Bell, Risk; The Street Cries of New York; Among the Isles of Shoals; The way to Sing, Life In the Brick Moon; We See and his kinsfolks, E. M. Stanton; Reviews and Literary notices. Fields, Osgood & Co., Boston.

Herald of Health for this month discourses of health under various heads. The Two Wives; Mind your Eye, Activity, The Landlord of the Blue Hen, Present Duty of Temperance Men, Growth and Development, The Prisons of Paris, Spurs and Ruins for those who need them, Our Studies in Physiology, Death of E. M. Stanton, Do Animals Progress? Baley Durring, &c. Wood & Holbrook, New York.

Harper's Magazine for February contains the following articles: Frederick the Great (continued), Tell Me (poem), Beast, Bird and Fish; The Andes and the Amazon; South Coast Stantcrings in England; The Consequences, Anteros (continued); Flood Tide, Miradath, A Brave Lady; Mary Russell Mitford, Along the Wires; Paraguay and her Enemies; Walpole; A Chat on Bells, and various other interesting articles. Harper Bros., N. Y.

The Schoolmate, by Joseph H. Allen, of Boston, as its name indicates, is well suited to the wants of the class of people who attend school This number is well adapted to that end, and will help gladden many little hearts with its cheerful contents.

The Phrenological Journal contains biographical and critical sketches of Washington, Confucius the Chinese Sage, Father Hyacinthe, E. M. Stanton, Clark M. Loomis, Victor M Rice, Charles Babbage the inventor mathematician, Hon. J Coogan. Besides What Can I do Best; My Brother's Keeper; The Balonds; Brain Waves; The Blues; The Rich and the Poor, A Petrified Forest, Legal education; Catarrh; Appetite; Theory of the Aurora Borealis. Terms $3 a year, S. R. Wells, N. Y.

A Meritorious Article.—We are tired of this idea of puffing humbug medicines that are constantly thrown into drug stores, and are merely an imposition upon community. But when an article comes into the market that is really worthy of comment, we are happy to make public acknowledgment, trusting that some benefit may arise therefrom. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y, is the proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and we take pleasure in calling attention to it because we know it to be a good article, and a shure cure for that loathsome disease. Catarrh It is sold by most druggists, or may be obtained for sixty cents through the mail by addressing the proprietor as above.—Clark'ind Herald.

Thousands in all our populous cities and towns are troubled with sick and nervous headaches. Whittlesey's Dyspepsia Cure is warranted to give relief.

This infallible remedy does not, like the poisonous irritating snuffs and strong caustic solutions which the people have long been humbugged, simply palliate for a short time, or drive the disease to the lungs, as there is danger of doing in the use of such nostrums, but it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of chronic catarrh, as thousands can testify. Cold in the head is cured with a few applications. Catarrhal headache is relieved and cured as if by magic It removes offensive breath, loss or impairment of the sense of taste, smell, or hearing, watering or weak eyes, and impaired memory, when caused by the violence of catarrh, as they all frequently are. We offer $500 for a case of catarrh that we cannot cure.

For sale by most Druggists everywhere. Price 50 cents.

Ask your druggists for the remedy, but if he has not got it on sale, don't be put off by accepting any miserable worse than worthless substitute, but enclose 60 cents to me, and the remedy will be sent to you postpaid. Four packages $2, or one doz. for $5. Address the proprietor, R. V. PIERCE, M. D, Buffalo, N. Y. 333-3m as to style, prices and terms of payment. This agency can show upwards of

now in private houses, within ten miles from this point; some of them having been in constant use for THIRTEEN YEARS, and have never been out of repair. We do not come before the public offering a first class instrument for $50, as we cannot get them. Our instruments have not declined in prices, but on the contrary, have advanced, within the past year five per cent. Our

are veneered with Sawed Cut Veneers. The material is first class in every respect. The tuning is as near perfect as possible. The surpass all others now in market. Persons never having seen our instruments have no idea of the advantages we offer, and should not think of purchasikg elsewhere without first consulting us,

Time Payments.

After this date our particular attention is to be devoted to this rule of trade, although considered by many dealers as not very remunerative, yet, having for many years endeavored to favor the industrious working classes with every advantage for procuring instruments and enjoying music at home, we are now determined to perfect this branch of trade, so that the man of moderate means may give his children the advantages of a Musical Education.

Pianos, Organs and Melodeons repaired in a workman like manner by COMPETENT WORKMEN. Old Instruments taken in exchange for new ones at their true value. All instruments delivered

FREE OF CHARGE.

Pianos removed, packed, and shipped at reasonable rates.
